ATSU Policies

Transfer Credit

Transferability of ATSU Credits

The transferability of credits earned at A.T. Still University (ATSU) is at the discretion of the receiving college, university, or other educational institution. Students considering transferring to any institution should not assume that credits earned in any program of study at ATSU will be accepted by the receiving institution. Similarly, the ability of a degree, certificate, diploma, or other academic credential earned at ATSU to satisfy an admission requirement of another institution is at the discretion of the receiving institution. Accreditation does not guarantee credentials or credits earned at ATSU will be accepted by or transferred to another institution. To minimize the risk of having to repeat coursework, students should contact the receiving institution in advance for evaluation and determination of transferability of credits and/or acceptability of degrees, diplomas, or certificates earned.

Descriptions and Credit Values

ELEC 5122 – Mindfulness and Resilience in Medicine 1.25 credit hours Mindfulness is a way of attending to the experience of the present moment in a way that is fully aware and without judgement or reactivity. Studies show the benefits of mindfulness including stress reduction, emotional balance, and greater focus. This course explores how mindfulness can promote these states, how it is being applied to various clinical concerns, and how it can foster greater resilience, especially during challenging times.
